Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-20 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

With respect to claim 1, the prior art does not teach a receiver having a third means for adding delay to a propagation path of a first signal, said third means for adding being responsive to a first glitch on a third signal caused by the receiver sensing a first transition in the first signal before the receiver sensing a second transition on the second signal.

With respect to claims 7 and 14, in addition to other elements in the respective claim, the prior art does not teach a receiver having a first comparator configured to receive into its positive and negative inputs a three-state digital signal from the transmission line and a first reference voltage level, respectively, and generate a first two-state digital signal, a second comparator configured to receive into its positive and negative input: the three-state digital signal from the transmission line and a second reference voltage level, respectively and generate a second two-state digital signal.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
